For well over 100 years, the weekly civil service newspaper, the Chief-Leader has covered all of the issues that affect us as civil servants, each and every week, in-depth. The leadership of the Organization of Staff Analysts has always been a big supporter of the Chief-Leader. We believe its coverage of public sector union issues, civil service examinations and other matters of vital importance to civil servants has always been exemplary.

Reading the Chief is virtually a requirement for all civil servants who wish to stay on top of the news affecting them. Unlike the print dailies and most other mainstream news sources, the Chief-Leader actually respects the civil service as a concept and civil servants as workers and individuals.

Since May 1, 2018, OSA has been making available FOR FREE a subscription to the digital version of the Chief-Leader to any voluntary OSA member for whom we have a personal email address. (We will not send the newspaper to your work email.) Retirees and members of OSART, our related professional association, and those who are not full members paying dues are not included in this offer.
